Dear Sir,

My name is Lethabo Johnson, a first year student at the University of South Africa (UNISA), reading Bachelor of Law In Criminal Justice.

I write to you to appeal my NSFAS funding which was recently canceled because I failed to meet the academic requirement of passing at least 50% of my modules.

The reason was I was admitted to the hospital during the exams for an ailment I suffered. I was writing my exams while I was on the hospital bed. And I plead you can imagine the psychological and physical stress I was going through.

I am the first of my six siblings who are also in school. My father has passed on and mother lost her job a few months ago.

I have put my hope in this appeal counting on you for empathy to please review my appeal and hopefully restore my funding. I'll be very appreciative.

Thank You.
